Light Saturday Run of Receipts and Quality Fair.

The local hog market yesterday was Steady to strong, with a light run of receipts and quality for the most part fairly good. For the most of the day the incoming receipts were so scattering and so few that it was not easy to determine a quotable market, and the whole day did not show up very lively so far as volume of receipts were concerned The bunk of the receipts came in late, in fact the trains bearing stock were more than usually late in arriving. All hogs coffered met with a ready and cordial reception, and sold as soon as yarded, and more would have found equally ready 5.25% in medium, $4.76%; beer steers, sale. The pens were empty at the close, all the buyers being on the alert for all stuff on sale. The tops were 24 cents above the tops for the day before, and two bunches of hogs varying from good two bunches of hogs varying from good to the day before and eastern shippers. Prices two bunches of hogs varying from good light stock to heavy butcher weight caught this top figure. As an evidence of There was a ood demand for hos from local packers and eastern shippers. There was a ood demand for hos from local packers and eastern shippers. Prices rules the following changes: Surplus reserve, decrease $1.137.60; increase $1.820,000; specie, decrease $1.137.60; its logar to choice, $3.20\cdots (2000); legal tenders, increase $1.137.60; its logar to choice, $1.25\cdots (2000); legal tenders, increase $1.137.60; its logar to choice, $1.25\cdots (2000); legal tenders, increase $1.137.60; its logar tenders, and this discount was realized, the re-ceipts being light and the wagon trade and car stuff both showing the decrease 3,000. in volume. As it was all the hogs offered were readily disposed of at prices strong with the average and bulk of the day before. The average weight was 17 pounds lighter than that of Friday, but on the latter date the hogs were of better grade and running through the lot much heav-ter han on Saturday, and more of them to grade up. On the whole, while yesterday was a light day, experiencing the usual Saturday falling off, coupled with the wet and heavy roads, the sales and average conditions were good, all hogs selling strong, and the feeling being mosthlie the rains of course shut off receipts temporarily yesterday, mak-ing it difficult to reach shipping stifilens and the market, the ultimats result will be bound to affect very materially for the good of this market, assuring the corn crop in many sections tributary to this market, which means a good crap of stock hogs and marketable porkers for next > serves special explanation, for it is a patent system of instantaneous reference. The indices of each map agreed upon each map's border. The information lies in a nutstiell. These wanderful plates, compiled by exparts and absolutely up to date, are a miniature counterpart of the world's physical appearance as inexlets at this moment. The maps are not merely pictorial charge; they are also geographies and gazatteeracombined. The ruled berder on the four elden of every map is divided line equi-distant spaces, designated upon the sides by letters, at the top and bottom by numerals. If lines were protected from these marginal points their intersection. On the margin of each page abpears a closeified list of all the pennipal divisions, cities, and towns inscribed upon that specfal map, where they are classified alphabetically and according to their demmercial importance and promise ecce as centers of population ****

Explanation of Marginal Index
